CELEBRATION DETAILS GET FINAL ATTENTION

Finance Committee Reports Fund of $700 Available

MEN'S SUIT A PRIZE

Local Merchant Donates for Marathon Race--Program is Pleasing

Many of the matters of final detail in preparation for the four town's celebration to take place in Charleroi on Thursday, October 15 have been arranged. The finance committee has practically completed its work, and has collected about $700 to say nothing of having secured a large variety of prizes.

The first prize for the marathon race from Ellsworth to Charleroi will be a suit of clothes donated by a local merchant. Balmacaan and mackinac coats will be numbered among other prizes.

The announcement of the program for the celebration Monday was hailed with interest. The program is to begin at 9 o'clock in the morning, and there will be events from that hour until late at night. Events of the morning will be an address of welcome by Burgess S. Leeward, a band concert, a bicycle race and a tug-of-war.

Afternoon events will be a mile race, a motorcycle hill climbing contest up Fifth street, a marathon race, a balloon ascension, a base ball game and the award of prizes. In the evening, an illuminated parade will be featured. There will be several bands.

BEALLSVILLE TEAM DEFEATS BENTLEYVILLE

Beallsville, 13; Bentleyville 7. That was the result of the opening game of Bentleyville football team and the Beallsville eleven at the grounds of the latter last Saturday afternoon.

The time of the quarters were 10 and 12. Blair, on the Beallsville eleven who sustained a broken nose in the game with California Normal, was again injured Saturday. Weaver, on the Beallsville line also sustained injuries, which however were not of a serious nature, and did not take much time off the game. Miller made some spectacular runs, as did Wilson. Yoke made a touchdown in the first quarter by some brilliant running. In the second quarter Weaver made some good gains, but the quickness of Miller and N. Hickman on the opposing side caused the loss. Miller made a touchdown for Beallsville. H. Hickman made a run of 25 yards which was one of the most spectacular runs of the game.

The last quarter was the most exciting of the game, the score standing 7 to 6 in favor of Bentleyville. Miller made a run, of 15 yards, and after an almost superhuman effort the Beallsville team landed the ball, and the game was lost to Bentleyville.

Both teams were rather evenly matched, although it was conceded by many that the Bentleyville team had it a little on the Collegians in the matter of weight. Garrett, a new addition to the Beallsville eleven proved himself a very capable handler of the ball, and it was partly through the efficient work of himself that the score resulted as it did.

Mine Strike is Settled

Leonard Workings Resume Operations After Brief Shutdown

Settlement of a controversy at the Leonard mine near Fayette City Monday evening by Organizer William Feeney and Board Member John O'Leary, resulted in striking miners returning to work this morning. The strike was over the discharge of a motorman at the instance of a boss hauler. Settlement was effected through the boss hauler agreeing to resign and the motorman being reinstated. The strike was in effect only about two days.

DEATH OF SLAV WILL BE PROBED

Coroner Will Investigate Story of Avella Scrap Over War

WILL HOLD AN INQUEST

A heated discussion of the European war situation by foreigners employed at the Pryor Coal company works in the Avella district some days ago that resulted in a fist fight between Joseph Dykenewick, a Slav and George Garrons, a German, may have a tragic sequel when a coronial investigation is completed. The quarrel developed blows after whiskey had been brought into the discussion.

Dykenewick died Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock at his home. The cause of his death is given as pneumonia, but this disease it is thought may have resulted from complications arising from wounds he received at the hands of Garrons. Garrons was taken to Washington county jail on Monday evening on a nominal charge of assault and battery that had been made against him before Justice of the Peace C. P. Buchanan following the fight. Garrons had been out on bail but his bondsmen refused to stand good for him, following the death of Dykenewick, and he was taken into custody again.

Coroner James Heffran has been notified of the affair by Deputy Coroner W. W. Weighmann of Avella who took charge of the body of Dykenewick.

CHARLEROI FIREMEN GET EVERYTHING IN BROWNSVILLE RACES

All Money for Contest Events Brought Home by Local Boys--Remarkably Good Time Made in Exhibition Runs

The Charleroi Firemen's athletic team captured everything at Brownsville today in the observance of firemen's day. Moreover, they captured everything hands down because there wasn't a team anywhere in sight that was willing to race against the Magic City boys. All the money offered for the three events was brought home. There was to have been a hub and hub race, but when the Charleroi team lined up, there was no other team at

SINGERS MEET AND PLAN FOR ORGANIZATION

Local Choral Society to be Definitely Formed at Meeting Next Tuesday

Preliminary steps toward the formation of a Charleroi Choral society were taken Monday evening at a meeting held in the high school auditorium. It was attended by local singers. Dr. C. C. Wright presided as temporary chairman. It was decided to perfect the organization next Tuesday evening at a meeting, when the first studies of a miscellaneous program will be taken up under the direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel.

A committee to prepare a set of by-laws was appointed, to consist of Frank M. Haines, Prof. T. L. Pollock and Miss Price G. Frye.

Already about 65 persons have signified their intentions of becoming members of the choral organization, and it is declared there will be a number of others included in the charter membership. It is the present plan to prepare for a concert at an early date and after that take up the study of a complete work.

FIRST MEETING OF THE MUSICAL AUXILIARY HELD

Miss Bertha Haines, director of the Musical Auxiliary was the hostess at the first meeting of the organization Monday evening. A Bach program was rendered. Miss May Barth gave a paper on the theme of "Music Before Bach." Miss Ethel Hawthorne sang a soprano solo. A paper on Bach was presented by Miss Marguerite Whitlatch. Miss Haines, the hostess played a Bach number as a piano solo.

The meeting was well attended and much enjoyed by the members of the auxiliary. The next meeting will be held on October 19, when Miss Marguerite Whitlatch will be the hostess.

BAD DAY FOR JOES IN COURT

Several Bentleyville Men of That Name Get Sentences

LOCAL MAN TELLS TALE

It was a rather unlucky day for the "Joes" in court Monday. Five defendants, all with name Joe, entered pleas of guilty, and are now in jail. Joe Pavlick, Joe Derick, Joe Yec, Joe Zai and Mike Ehren entered pleas of guilty to selling liquor without license. They were part of the number gathered up one night recently in a raid in the Bentleyville section, conducted by Constable W. E. Jericho, of Monongahela, assisted by two state troopers. They were each given a sentence of $500 and costs and three months in jail.

Joe Stakus was also among the pleaders for violating the liquor laws. His case was a little out of the ordinary. Stakus is just out of the hospital, recovering from a badly broken leg. Some of his friends were at his house and contributed money to pay towards his hospital bill. In return he gave them some beer he had. He was given the usual sentence. Arrangements may be made to parole him.

Rose Faben, who lost her husband in the Cincinnati mine disaster, admitted she had sold liquor to support herself and family. She was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $500, and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months. She made a plea to be allowed to go home to her children, but the court said they would be given good care at the children's home while she was in jail.

Edward Sherrow, of Shupetown, a mining hamlet near Canonsburg, admitted he had run a gambling house and to accommodate his patrons had gone out to a speakeasy and got them drunk. On the liquor charge he was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $500 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months. On the charge of selling on Sunday he was fined $50 and costs and 30 days in jail, this sentence to run concurrent with the other. On the gambling charge he was fined $1 and costs and committed three months to jail, to be computed after the expiration of the first sentence.

Alice Dow, from Shupetown, admitted running a bawdy house. She was sentenced to pay the costs, fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months.

Charleroi Church Loses Rev. Richards and Gets Rev. Mead

MANY CHANGES MADE

Conference Characterized by Alterations--Local Pastor Goes to Allegheny

With the closing of the Methodist Episcopal conference in Rochester, Pa., Monday evening ministerial appointments were announced. Rev. F. A. Richards, who has been pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Charleroi for the past four years is transferred to pastorate the Union Methodist Episcopal church in North side Pittsburg. He will be succeeded here by Rev. W. G. Mead, who was stationed in Charleroi 17 years ago. He comes well recommended and is said to be a man of considerable ability.

Rev. Richards is well liked in Charleroi, and it is with considerable regret that the Charleroi people will see him leave, but they are rejoiced at his promotion which he justly deserves.

The following are among the appointments by conference:

Superintendent of the district, Rev. J. H. Miller.

A. O. H. DANCE AND EUCHRE NICE AFFAIR OF MONDAY EVENING

The ladies of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held a dance and euchre at Turner Hall Monday evening that attracted a crowd of approximately 200 people from Charleroi and numerous other points along the valley. An enjoyable evening was spent. One of the features was the revival of the old-fashioned square dancing. Financially and socially the affair was a big success.

SIMPLE ENGLISH NOT NEEDED

Cub Reporter Got Something of a Jolt in His Interview With Educated Chinaman.

Two San Francisco reporters were assigned to call on Chinamen and interview them on an immigration measure pending in congress. One of the reporters was a cub and an Easterner, while the other, an experienced man, assumed the management of the assignment.

"Gates," he said, after they had invaded several Chinese shops without any important result. "Yonder is a tea-store. Beat it over by there and talk to the boss about Chinese voting. I'll go in next door. Remember to use the very simplest English you got."

The cub went inside the tea-shop and thus addressed the proprietor:

"John, how? Me-me-Telegraph. John! Newspaper-savvy, John? Newspaper-print things. Un'stan? We want know what John think about Chinaman-vote-all same Melican man. What John think-Chinaman-vote, see? Savvy, John? Vote? What think?"

The Chinaman listened to all this with profound gravity and then replied:

"The question of granting the right of suffrage to Chinese citizens who have come to the United States with the avowed intention of making this country their permanent home is one that has occupied the attention of thoughtful men of all parties for years, and it may in time become of paramount importance. At present, however, it seems to me that there is no exigency requiring an expression of opinion from me upon this subject. You will please excuse me."

The cub went outside and leaned against a lamp-post to rest and recover from a sudden faintness. His fellow reporter had purposely steered him against one of the best educated Chinamen in the United States.

WIND USED TO MAKE MUSIC

Investigation Has Disclosed Just How the Pressure Required May Be Ascertained.

In an interesting article in the Philosophical Magazine, Mr. Foord refers to Doctor Stone's table of wind pressure required to play various notes of the scale on various instruments. The table indicates that as the notes rise higher in the scale the air pressure necessary to produce them increases with most wind instruments, although not with all. In the clarinet, for example, the pressure decreases from the low notes to the high ones, varying from 15 inches of water to 8 inches.

Mr. Foord repeated these experiments on the clarinet and saxophone, playing the whole range of notes first loudly and then softly. For the clarinet it is found that the pressures fall as the notes rise, agreeing with Doctor Stone's table, although the inverse law holds good for the oboe, bassoon, horn, cornet, trumpet, euphonium and bombardon.

With the saxophone it is found that the pressures corresponding to notes at the beginning and end of the register are equal, the pressure rising to a maximum at the note D about halfway through the scale.

Composing Letters.

It is related of a merchant that impatient at the long delay of a customer in settling his accounts with him, he said at last to his young clerk, "Write to that man and tell him that I can wait no longer." "What shall I write to him?" the young man asked. The merchant was hurried and answered crossly and without thought, "Something or nothing, and that soon!" In a few days a check came from the delinquent, paying the entire amount of his indebtedness. Surprised, the merchant asked his clerk, "What did you write to that man?" "Just what you told me to," the young man answered. "I did not tell you what to write." "Yes, you did," the merchant said, "Something or nothing, and that soon." I wrote that.

True, O Uncle Joshua, it takes some one more wise than a fool to "compose a letter."—Atlantic.

Conquering One's Work.

The best way to get out of work you do not like is to make a tremendous success of it. The people who throw up the work they do not enjoy are frequently forced by necessity to take something they like even less. But one who does uncongenial work in such a fashion as to make a success of it may in time be placed where he can choose his work and dictate his own salary. Do not try to get out of disagreeable work by doing it so poorly that your employer will conclude that it is not worth doing at all. Instead, do it so well you will force him to realize that he needs you for a higher place.

Even to the Least.

Victor Hugo says of that bishop whom all readers of "Les Miserables" will never forget, "He sprained his ankle once trying to avoid stepping on an ant." He belonged to the order of those who would not "needlessly set foot upon a worm." This attitude toward life, even when we meet it in its lowliest forms, can be cultivated in children if parents start early enough. If there are harmful creatures whose meaning we cannot understand and which must be destroyed, let the destruction be without necessary suffering and never in the spirit of cruelty.

Thousands Rally to the Support of Dr. Martin Brumbaugh

Sweeping everything before it, the movement throughout the state, the movement to elect Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, governor of Pennsylvania will receive additional impetus this week through the activity of the Brumbaugh Citizens committee, a state-wide organization which has headquarters in Philadelphia.

An indication of the feeling which exists among the Washington party followers is indicated in a letter received from Dr. James N. Perry, Jr., of Germantown, who writes: "I have forsaken the Washington party since the Flinn deal and changed strongly in favor of Dr. Brumbaugh and Senator Penrose and intend to vote the straight Republican ticket. I shall do all in my power to make this election a walk away for the G. O. P."

Included in the great mass of letters received in each mail by the citizens committee were the following: "I am very much interested in the election of Dr. Brumbaugh, believing him to be a man of exceptional character and one who has splendid qualifications for the position of Governor. In fact, I am enthusiastic for Dr. Brumbaugh. The election of men of the character and stamp of Dr. Brumbaugh and our party leaders will go far to re-unite the party in the state and to give it a character and standing that will mean much for the future."

NONE IMMUNE TO DISEASE

It is Now Recognized as a Fallacy That the Weak Are More Generally Its Victims.

The claim has been advanced that the infectious diseases have benefited the race by the destruction of the unfit. This idea I have combated most vigorously since our study of typhoid fever in the army, writes Dr. Victor L. Vaughan in Science. My colleagues and I found that out of 9,481 soldiers who had previously been on the sick list report and could not be regarded as possessing standard health, 648, or 6.8 per cent, contracted typhoid fever; whereas, out of 46,348 men who had no preceding illness, 7,197, or 15.3 per cent, developed typhoid fever. More than 90 per cent of the men who developed typhoid had no preceding intestinal disorder. Under ordinary conditions the strong, busy man, especially the one whose activities demand wide excursions from his home, is more likely to become infected than the one whose sphere of action is more limited on account of infirmity. The reason for this is too obvious to need statement, and it follows that more men than women and more adults than children have typhoid fever. Moreover, the mortality is greater among the strong. Contagion, like war, destroys the very flower of the race. The view is sustained by the historians of the pestilence of former times.

Wrong End of the Ticket.

Frank Wood, ticket clerk at Columbus, Ind., sold a ticket to a woman who expected to change from the Union station to the Chicago & North Western in Chicago. He noticed that she lingered near the window, looking at her ticket, showing it to a party of friends.

Finally, she appeared again at the window and announced reproachfully: "This ticket isn't right!" When asked to explain, she said: "Why, you know I have to transfer in Chicago, and it says right here at the top, 'this ticket is nontransferable.'"—Indianapolis News.

HIGH SHOE TIME.

We have just discovered that October first is the official day for laying aside the low shoes and putting on the high footgear. The fixing of this particular date for this particular change in mode of dress may be a little scheme of the shoemakers and the sellers of footwear but nevertheless it is just as well to call attention to the necessity for the changing of the style of shoes with the coming of weather changes, says the Washington Reporter.

Although it is a custom among some men, the average individual with average inclination towards colds and the like does not believe in nor advocate the wearing of low shoes in the winter time. The average man feels that the cool breeze playing about his ill protected ankles are not particularly conducive to robust health and well being, no matter what the athletic enthusiasts and some other faddists may say about it.

Of course the bitter cold and driving blasts of winter are not yet here, but they soon will be and the wise man will take time by the forelock in this instance and see to it that he is prepared for that morning when he wakes up and finds that winter has actually arrived. The wise and sensible thing to do right now is to make certain that your winter foot covering is at hand whether it be a left over from last season or something brand new from the shoe shop.

These remarks however, are uttered in the interests of men alone. The dear ladies, many of them, at least, will continue to wear their dainty little low pumps, no matter what weather conditions may be and in some mysterious way they seem to "get by" with it without greatly adding to the number of funerals in the community.

BRAINS.

One of the largest mail order houses in the world, now doing a business close to $100,000,000 a year, owes its origin to the quick wit of a boy telegrapher, who once received as a present a watch sent by mail. No doubt many boys and girls, too, had received presents by mail and had never thought twice about them. But Richard Warren Sears, who died in Chicago the other day, turned the incident over in his mind and tried to locate a business meaning. The result was that when he was 45 years old he retired, worth $20,000,000, the result of seeing a chance which others have overlooked, says the Pittsburg Press.

In the east there is a great correspondence school, with something like a million enrolled students, scattered throughout the earth. There is hardly a year when its profits don't exceed $2,000,000. It, too, had a curious origin. In the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania, nearly two-score years ago, a young man was running a newspaper for miners. A law was passed which required a man who wished to become a miner to pass an examination involving some scientific knowledge. The editor of the paper for miners started a "Questions and Answers" column to coach readers for the examination. It was flooded. Then he printed a separate paper, given over to this work. It could not supply the demand. So many letters came asking for replies by mail that, in self-defense, Thomas J. Foster had to open a correspondence school. The rest was simply growth. Success was assured from the moment the institution started.

We marvel at the size of great enterprises, but each stands for a time-lapse idea worked into practical shape in the acute mind of some enterprising pioneer. Chances are as numerous today as ever; indeed, they are more numerous because there are more people and more needs. The moral is: If you have brains, use them.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The map makers have all stopped work in Europe until the war is over.

If you want most girls to do some particular thing tell them to do just the opposite.

Now the question is will the world's series get prominent mention in the newspapers?

Those glorious days of the foot ball game and gathering chestnuts have at last arrived.

Much of the fighting these days seems to be done with a stubby pencil and a sheet of paper.

Lots of people have come to the conclusion that the United States is a pretty good place to live after all.

The dark days are arriving. The parlor lights will have to burn longer on Wednesday and Sunday nights

Now that we have another comet to look for the young people will have an excuse for remaining out late of an evening.

Sometimes young men make mistakes by believing that when a girl says "no," she means "yes." They sometimes mean "No."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

From some of the small town drug stores in the stone quarry district of Indiana you can buy anything from talcum powder to blasting powder. Not long ago a small quarry operator drove up in a buggy and was accompanied by his wife. Calling to the proprietor of the store, he said: "Jim, bring me that box I bought a while ago."

The package was placed in the buggy at the feet of the man and his wife. The latter eyed the box suspiciously.

"What's in that package?" she asked, with some fervor.

"Now, never mind," said the husband. "That's not going to hurt you."

The evasion excited the woman's further suspicions. "Ed Spivens," she exclaimed, "that's a package of dynamite."

"Well, what if it is," said Ed, with some emphasis. "It won't do any damage unless it explodes."

"Ed Spivens," shrieked the woman, "if you think I am going to ride six miles in a buggy with you with fifty pounds of dynamite at my feet you are a bigger fool than I thought you were! You have that man take that stuff right out and put it in the back part of the buggy, under the seat."

Come time ago a story goes. Little Willie started to be greatly interested in the lessons taught of the earlier Biblical history. Suddenly, however, the youngster faded away, and greatly the teacher wondered.

"What in the world is the matter, Willie?" said the teacher, meeting the youngster on the street one day. "You haven't been to Sunday school for several weeks."

"No, ma'am," slowly answered Willie. "I don't think I will come any more."

"Not come any more!" returned the teacher, with a disappointed look. "Why not?"

"Well," reflectively replied the youngster, "I don't like to go to Sunday school any more since Moses died."

START AND TRAINED FUTURES

Proper Carriage of the Body Has Much to Do With Condition of the General Health.

In the Woman's Home Companion, William J. Cromie, writing an article entitled "What Every Girl Should Know," tells the right way to stand, sleep and walk. Following is his advice as to standing:

"In the correct standing position the chest is held high and thrown out strongly, the abdomen drawn in, the chin in toward the chest, with the body well erect and leaning slightly forward. The weight of the body is equally distributed upon both feet, either with one foot in advance of the other, as in the military 'at rest,' or with heels together. In the military carriage the body is bent farther forward than in the ordinary walking posture. The cadet gets his erect posture, not so much by the physical exercise he takes as by constantly being reminded by his officers that he must hold his body erect."

"There are three ways to tell whether you are carrying yourself properly. Stand with the back to a wall which has a smooth surface, with the head, shoulders, hips and heels touching the wall; try to maintain this position at all times. Another way is to lie on the back, note the posture of the head, shoulders, chest and hips, arise and assume the same posture. Still another is to practice balancing a moderately heavy book on the head. Place a soft cushion on the head and the book on top, as this gives the book more surface upon which to rest, and is more easily balanced."

"Keeping the chest high and the body erect is an excellent exercise and should be cultivated."

Big English Liner Carries Motorboats Equipped With Most Reliable Wireless Apparatus.

Among the many accessories that have been provided on the gigantic British steamer Aquitania are two motorboats intended to carry passengers as well as low ordinary rowboats away from the ship in case of disaster. These boats measure 30 feet in length, 9 feet 6 inches in breadth, and 4 feet 6 inches in depth. Each boat is equipped with a 20-horsepower oil engine.

A cabin is fitted amidships and the forward end is divided from the larger engine room by a soundproof bulkhead, thus forming a suitable room for the Marconi wireless apparatus which the boats carry. This apparatus consists of a sending set which will transmit messages up to 20 miles and a receiving set capable of receiving over a range of 300 miles. The transmitting set has a fixed wave length of 300 meters.

Although there is nothing original incorporated in these sets, every effort has been made to have them absolutely reliable in every way so that they could be depended on under the most unfavorable conditions.—Popular Electricity.

Lacking Compulsory Education.

Although six states in the Union are still without compulsory school attendance laws and four others have laws that apply only partially, definite progress during the last decade is reported in a bulletin recently issued by the United States bureau of education. Since 1905 eight states previously without compulsory laws have adopted them, and it is thought to be a matter of only a few years when compulsory school attendance will be in effect in every state and territory of the United States.

The six states still without compulsory school laws are South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Texas. The four local-option states, where the law is in effect in certain counties only, are Maryland, Virginia, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The Bureau's investigation of the subject reveals a close connection between lack of compulsory attendance laws and illiteracy very much in accordance with the length of time compulsory schooling has been in effect and the completeness with which it is enforced.

Traces Nursery Story to Myth.

The origin of the story of Jack and Jill is traced by Dr. William A. White in the Psychoanalytic Review to a myth about the moon. Jack's fall and Jill's "tumbling after" are the successive disappearance of the moon spots as the moon wanes, the names of the hero and the heroine being themselves significant.

"The name Jack is derived from a verb meaning 'to increase' and Jill from a verb meaning 'to break up or dissolve.' So Jack and Jill are nothing more than personifications of the waxing and waning, and the water they went after is an indication of the dependence of the weather, in particular the rainfall, upon the moon."

Activities of Women.

Nearly 400 women are engaged daily in New York city in guarding the health and safety of the people.

Miss Madeline Ferrola, a murder convict in Sing Sing prison, costs the state of New York $500 a month.

Mrs. Alfred Graham of New York recently drove her motorboat at the rate of 47 miles an hour.

Over 350,000 signed the petition presented to the Swedish parliament asking enfranchisement for women.

Mrs. Schweitzer H. Arndt, the first policeman in Europe, has been in the service at Stuttgart, Germany, for six years.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE HOUSE FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Number One

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section one, article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof.

That section one of article eight, which reads as follows:

"Section 1. Every male citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at elections, subject, however, to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact:

"First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

"Second. He shall have resided in the State one year, or, having previously been a qualified elector or native-born citizen of the State, he shall have resided therein and returned, then six months immediately preceding the election.

"Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

"Fourth. If twenty-two years of age and upwards, he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election."

Section 1. Every citizen, male or female, of twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections, subject, however, to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact:

First. He or she shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Second. He or she shall have resided in the State one year, or, having previously been a qualified elector or native-born citizen of the State, he or she shall have removed therefrom, and returned, then six months immediately preceding the election.

Third. He or she shall have resided in the election district where he or she shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

Fourth. If twenty-two years of age and upwards, he or she shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election.

Fifth. Whenever the words "he," "his," "him," and "himself" occur in any section of the Constitution, the same shall be construed as if written, respectively, "he or she," "his or her," "him or her," and "himself or herself."

AUTOS MEET HEADON; ONE BADLY DAMAGED

An auto collision at Beallsville Sunday resulted in the breaking of two machines slightly, but fortunately no one was injured. Miss Renshaw, of Scenery Hill, driving a new two-passenger machine, made the turn there to go to Bentleyville, while a machine from Monessen was making the turn to come the other way. Both machines went together with a crash, and the lamps were broken from Miss Renshaw's machine while the other was put out of commission, as the steering rods were broken.

Breakage Causes Shutdown

Through the breaking of a main shaft in the rod mill of the Page Woven Wire Fence Co., at Monessen the rod department was compelled to close down last week.

Council Meets Tonight

The Charleroi borough council will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight.

BENTLEYVILLE

Installs New Safe.

William H. Hartman, the newly assigned postmaster to the Bentleyville postoffice, has purchased a new and larger safe, a safe company in Pittsburg filling the order. Two notable robberies took place at the postoffice not long ago. In both instances the safes were badly wrecked. It is hoped, however, that future burglars will find a "harder nut to crack" should they make an attempt on the new safe. Mr. Hartman is planning several changes that will prove beneficial to the mail service in Bentleyville.

K. of M. to Monongahela.

Monday Nile Commandery No. 376 of the Knights of Malta at Bentleyville attended the services at the tabernacle in Monongahela. Throughout the season the Knights have been having a great many attractions in the neighborhood, this being the "liveliest" order in town. Some fifty members attended the tabernacle services held in Monongahela.

Repairs Tenement.

The business and tenement building recently purchased by Solomon Malakoff from J. E. Richardson is undergoing repairs at the hands of the purchaser. Mr. Malakoff intends giving the building a general overhauling.

CELEBRATE THEIR TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. E. Sellars, of Ninth street were pleasantly surprised Monday evening when 25 of their friends met them as they were starting out for a walk, the purpose of the unlooked for visitation being to congratulate formally the couple on the occasion of their tenth wedding anniversary.

The affair was arranged through the instrumentality of Mrs. John Phillips. A two course luncheon was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wildman, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stech, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. George Feree, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellwood, Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips, and Misses Ella McDiarmid. Among the surprises of the evening was the presentation of Mrs. Sellars with a three-stone diamond la valier.

AUTO BRAKES FAIL; CAR BUMPS INTO MAN

While crossing Fifth street at the upper side of the Bank of Charleroi building Monday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock, Lorenzo Flowers, of Sixth street and Lincoln avenue, had a narrow escape from being seriously injured when he was struck and knocked down by the automobile of Dr. F. C. Stahlman. Mr. Flowers received a cut on the nose and was somewhat bruised and shaken up. Dr. Stahlman was coming down Fifth street and it seems that his brakes did not hold. The machine struck Mr. Flowers before it could be controlled. The glass in one of the lamps was broken.

MARIANNA FIRE DOES DAMAGE IN SUM OF $10,000

Fire totally destroyed the grocery store belonging to Mike Midla and the one story pool room and barber shop owned by Mike Humenik at East Marianna about 2 o'clock this morning. A large brick building adjoining the burning structures was saved only through the persistent efforts of a hastily organized bucket brigade. The loss on the buildings was about $10,000 and so far as is known, was not covered by insurance. The loss on the store building was $3,000; that on contents $6,000 while the loss on the smaller building was $1,000.

The Midla family was asleep when the alarm was given. Miss Midla, a sister of Mike Midla, jumped from the burning building and sustained a broken ankle. A child of Mike Midla was slightly injured.

DR. BRASHEAR CHIEF SPEAKER AT BROWNSVILLE

By a fund of anecdotes and reminiscences of a pathetic trend, Prof. John A. Brashear of Pittsburg, Brownsville's centennial audiences Monday afternoon were moved to laughter and tears. The day was known as "Educational Day." Prof. Brashear's address was delivered to a large audience, already enthusiastic over the great school children's great parade in the morning.

Sharing honors with the former citizen of Brownsville, were Prof. L. W. Rapier of State College, and John S. Carroll, superintendent of the Fayette county schools. Each reviewed the history of the town, and told of its progress and development.

Following a talk in the evening by Prof. F. W. Wright of Uniontown, the citizens and homecomers gathered and sang and cheered the music of the Marine Band of Pittsburg.

FREW FURNITURE STORE PURCHASED BY MARYLAND MAN

James F. Frew, who has been engaged in the furniture business on Fallowfield avenue for a number of years, has sold his entire business to James B. Dixon, of Lonaconing, Md., who has already taken charge of the store.

Mr. Dixon has been engaged in business in Lonaconing for the last 32 years and comes here well recommended for his honest dealing with the public. He is preparing to make several changes in his store, among which will be a remodeling of the front and tearing out part of the office.

FABLE DEALING WITH ADVICE

Will Be Interesting Alike to Those Who Offer and Those Who Seek Guidance.

Once, on a day when many problems rose up and encompassed me about as high walls my friend came to me with admonition in his eyes and advice on his tongue.

And, because of the love that was between us, I hearkened unto the words of my friend and did as he advised. But his advice brought me no good. But, Nay, rather it led me deeper into my prison of questionings. And when I saw that my troubles were multiplied upon me, I sought out my friend again to ask him why this should be. And I said:

"Lo! All that thou badest me do I have done, yet am I not released from my difficulty—rather is trouble multiplied upon me!"

And my friend lost patience with me and laughed me to scorn and said: "If thou knewest that what I said would bring thee to no good end, why wast thou obedient to my voice? I advised for thy good—but thy life I cannot make for thee."

And at first I was wroth with my friend, but later, when I had lain still a long time with my thought, I was thankful unto him.

For I said, "Henceforth I will not ask advice only of my own mind, and the soul within me shall be a counsellor."

And when I had sought the advice of my mind and taken counsel with mine own soul, I saw a path between the walls and knew where my feet should tread. And by that path I began to climb from my prison.

Then came other friends with advice on their tongues and cried unto me.

"Not this way! Not this way!" But I hearkened not unto them, for I felt that I was destined to be mine own deliverer. And at last there came a day when the walls of my prison lay below me and when I could smile upon my friends and say:

"Lo, it was the right path!"

But my friends only smiled back at me with right good will and said:

"You have had good luck. We are glad."—Marguerite Wilkinson.

TREE AGRICULTURE NOT NEV

Immense Possibilities When the Subject Has Been Thoroughly and Scientifically Sifted.

The modern conception of "tree agriculture" is new—it is only a few years since men began to discuss the possibility of substituting permanent trees for annual seed-bearing grain as the world's food supply. But the fact of tree agriculture is very old and few who live in northern land have any idea how far it has progressed in the hot regions.

There are some 60,000,000 cocoanut trees in the island of Ceylon, valued at nearly $200,000,000. They furnish much of the food supply of the inhabitants. The date palms of the Pacific are other examples of tropical fruit trees; and the chestnuts, carobs and olives of southern Europe show something of what can be done in cooler climates. In the grasp of modern science trees are as plants as animals. We consider what has been accomplished in animal breeding in the last two centuries, we get some idea of tree farming as our descendants may practice it 200 years hence.

Wallachs in History.

The Wallachs have a large legendary literature, ballads of past history, folk lore, fireside tales and songs. To the subject Lazar devotes one of the most interesting chapters in the book. "It has not aimed at presenting anything like a complete record, but his specimens show what a wealth of material here awaits investigation and record before the encroachments of new culture have destroyed this invaluable record of the life of an interesting folk. Material of this sort now stands upon a high plane. It is recognized that it is worthy of studious attention as preserving records of the life of people such as are lacking to the art of chronicles and documents of history."

Traits of British Troops.

When discussing the peninsular campaign with John Wilson Crok Wellington told him that "the nation character of the three kingdoms was strongly marked in my army. I found the English regiments always in the best humor when we were well supplied with beef; the Irish when we were in the wine countries, and the Scotch when the dollars for pay came up. This looks like an epigram, but assure you it was a fact, and quite perceptible. But we managed to reconcile all their tempers, and venture to say that in our later campaigns, and especially when we crossed the Pyrenees, there never was an army in the world in better spirit, better order or better discipline."

Pythagoras Didn't Know.

Everybody has puzzled over the impression that what he is doing or saying or hearing he has done or seen heard before. Professor Bergson, a lecture in Edinburgh, explained this phenomenon. It is due to psychical phenomena. What happens is that "an insufficiency of psychical input causes our attention continually flag and revive again, so that we continually feel ourselves simultaneous in the past and in the present in memory and in perception."

ONE BLESSING THAT'S COME

At Least the Production of Hooks and Eyes Has Been Curtailed by the War in Europe.

As one result of the war the production of hooks and eyes has suddenly been stopped, or largely curtailed, and it is reported that the entire supply of these small but extremely significant commodities has been "bought up." Thus there is an immediate famine in that line, with the accompanying certainty of prohibitive prices.

In some way the outlook thus produced may seem somewhat appalling. Upon hooks and eyes, in present conditions, hangs the whole stability of feminine fashion, and the decorum of civilization is largely dependent upon them. And yet this news of the sudden corner in the hook-and-eye market will undoubtedly be received by thousands of men with subdued chuckles of mirth and gratification.

Among the masculine portion of society this is far from being a matter to inspire gloom. The process of "hooking up," i. e., effecting an accurate conjunction between sixty-four minute buttons and their corresponding eyes—has driven many thousands of respectable and harassed citizens in the past few years to the verge of nervous prostration. The amount of profanity it has inspired in men of hitherto unblemished character and habit is nothing short of deplorable.

Honest and peaceable men have been rendered desperate, and very likely the undermining influences of hooks and eyes have been one of the chief contributory causes for the increase of divorce and the disruption of happy homes. Here seems an apt illustration of the saying that good may come out of evil. The shortage of hooks and eyes may very well bring about at least a partial return of domestic tranquillity.

MUST BE GIVEN A CHANCE

What Mexican Peon Can Do With Acquired Land Is a Matter to Be Settled by Time.

The Mexican peon never had a chance to become a landowner, so no one can say whether or not he will become a successful small farmer. But the experiment has got to be tried. The wants of the peon are so simple that some persons believe that, when he once gets his land, he will not cultivate it to the extent to which it should be cultivated. Corn and beans are chief crops. Ninety-five per cent of the total of the whole Mexican population may be said to rely on corn as the staff of life. Cultivating corn in the primitive way is a very simple matter, but it does not secure anything like the full productiveness of the land. The Mexican peon still clings to the old-fashioned wooden-pronged plow, which merely scratches the surface of the soil. It requires the use of only one hand. Progressive landowners have found it extremely difficult to get peons to use a two-handled plow of the simplest pattern. Perhaps, when he has land for himself, the peon will become more progressive. Anyhow, he must be given the chance to try what he can do with the land.—Christian Herald.

Score One for Science.

Speaking of rats—and there was a rat-killing crusade a while ago all along the Atlantic coast, wasn't there?—one of the difficulties of civilization has been to find a rat-trap that the wise old rat could not in some way cheat. Of course, there are scores of rat-traps, most of them very efficient provided your rat can be lured into them. But some rats seem possessed of a sense, an instinct or a cunning that enables them to evade capture or death. Even some poisons fail to fool some rats. But over in Philadelphia a new trap has been invented which both fools the rat and kills it at the same time. It consists of an iron plate and a spike, both connected with electric wires. On the spike is a piece of cheese. The rat steps on the plate, reaches up and bites the cheese—and drops dead, having completed the circuit and so electrocuted itself. Score one for science.

College of Hard Knocks.

The student who graduates from the College of Hard Knocks, and then takes a post-graduate course at the Study-Lamp university, will compare very favorably with the graduates of any institution. Difficulties play an important part in our training, and it is not wise to hope for too much from one for whom things are made too easy. If the training which is the result of overcoming hard things is supplemented by home reading and study, the resulting product will hold his own, wherever you put him. The colleges and universities are worth while because they enable a young man to accomplish certain desirable results with the least waste of time or effort. But no one would go so far as to claim that they are in any sense indispensable.

Why Not?

Little Anna's father was a baseball enthusiast and had taken her to several games. One Sunday morning she went with him and her mother to the service in the Methodist church. Anna was not much interested in the sermon until the minister warmed up to his subject and the older men near the pulpit began to shout "Amen!" "Hallelujah!" etc. On the way home she looked up at her father and exclaimed: "Say, pop, who were the men up front rooting for the preacher?"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Owes His Life to This Lung Remedy

If you neglect a continued cough or cold you are in constant danger of contracting serious Lung Trouble. The cough or cold which does not yield to ordinary treatment should be a warning to you and preventive measures should be taken as soon as possible. In many cases Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, has brought permanent recovery. Read this:

Queens Court, L. I., N. Y.
"Gentlemen: In the year 1908 I was taken with a heavy cold and a nasty short cough. I went to several doctors, who gave me a lot of medicine. Finally, I went to a specialist, who gave me medicine that made me sick of 20 kinds of food; consequently I failed in health. I then went to the Catkills, and seemed to get better, but the cough still kept up. I stayed there for one year and then went to a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man. About the time of my return, my brother recommended Eckman's Alternative to me very highly. It is now nearly two years since I first took it. I am now well and I dare say that I would have been buried long ago if it had not been for Eckman's Alternative. (Address, JOSEPH J. TROSCHEK, 1100 Avenue of the Americas, New York.) Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stomach Colds and in rebuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for books, telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

The BLUE LAW our salesmen must follow

In our store we have a blue law that no one can break. It reads this way: "Sell a customer what you believe to be the greatest value at the price, just as if you were buying the article for your own use."

That's the reason we sell so many STYLE-PLUS CLOTHES, $17. In all our experience we have not seen clothes that give such fine fabrics, such careful making, such thoroughly good under construction at a price so low as $17.

Then you must remember that the styles are cut from the patterns designed by a great fashion artist.

Add to this a selection in cloth effects that do justice to the largest users of woollens in the world.

How can you afford to pass up this store without giving us a chance to show you a STYLE-PLUS suit or overcoat? Any style you ought to have. We can fit you. Every garment guaranteed.

WORLD MISSION OF CHIVALRY

Of Much Worth If Only to Create the Useful Romance of Action.

Chivalry served to draw out and develop those free, bold spirits whose talents could not have been evoked by the disputations of the schoolmen nor the mortifications of the religious zealots, says the Engineering Magazine. It created a romance of action to match the saint's moral paradise and evoked poetry and the arts to celebrate its charms. The love of the beautiful which it begot caused a hospitable reception to be given in Europe to the refinements brought from the East by the returning crusaders, which caused the first slight stirring of international trade.

The enthusiasm which the many-sided ideal of chivalry evoked with its galaxy of virtues, may be seen, in literature, in the unfolding of the themes of the simple Aryan folk tales, and the prose romances of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, into the sensuous beauty of Provencal poetry and the delicacy and pathos of Plutarch and Dante. Chivalry embellished with romance the lives of its half-legendary founders, Charlemagne, Siegfried and Arthur. It supplied the conception of virtue sung in Chaucer's Pilgrimage, Malory's "Morte D'Arthur" and Spenser's "Faerie Queene." In the world of action chivalry animated the crusades, dispensed justice throughout Europe for 400 years, purified court life and made much of the warfare of the middle ages peculiarly humane and noble. Its enthusiasm burned into brilliancy in such characters as Richard and Blondel, the Black Prince and his father, Tancred, Godfrey of Bouillon, Gaston de Foix, Bayard and Warwick, and in a thousand forgotten commanders of the Templars, the Knights of St. John and the Teutonic Knights.

ORIGIN OF THE SPLIT SKIRT

English Explorer Reports Discovery of the Vogue in Region as Far Away as Papua.

It will no doubt interest feminine readers to learn that the slit skirt is not exclusively a feature of latter day civilization. It seems, indeed, to be, as some male critics have suspected, a product of savagery. Where the idea originated is not quite certain. It has been variously attributed to Paris and New York. The discovery has now been made that this latest creation in feminine attire is in vogue in places where civilization is unknown, where no white woman and very few white men have ever set foot, and most of those who have ventured there have been killed and eaten.

In a report to the minister for external affairs regarding his recent expedition up the Fly river, in Papua, Judge Murray of London, England, states that he visited parts of the territory which, as far as he was aware, had not previously been explored, and one of the most interesting of his discoveries was the fact that all the women in one of the tribes were wearing slit skirts. This style of apparel seemed to have been in use for many years.

Seeing vs. Photographing.

The relative sensitiveness of the photographic plate and the human eye has been the subject of recent interesting experiments by Professor P. G. Nutting, of Rochester. An extra rapid plate was used for the tests. A source of light that could be "dimmed" at will and to any degree was placed twenty feet away from the plate and from the eye. The professor found that a light so dim that it required three hours to produce a just perceptible image on the extremely sensitive plate was easily visible to the human eye after resting the latter for three minutes in total darkness. "In other words," adds Professor Nutting, "an image on the retina just visible after partial adaptation to darkness would just produce an image on a photographic plate after an exposure of one hour. The retina fully adapted to darkness is still a thousand times more sensitive than this."

What Bernard Shaw Said.

Bernard Shaw once gave expression to one of the finest things he or any one else ever said. Here it is: "Keep yourself clean. Remember you are the window lights through which you must view the world."

You may try to convince yourself that it will not matter to the outer world whether or not the windows of your life are kept clean. But there is one thing as certain as anything can be certain, and that is that it matters to you, whether it does to anyone else or not, for if you cannot get the right perspective on life and upon all the various beauties that life gives out, then you are cheating your self.

Everything matters that has to do with your individual happiness.

Read in Bed?

Persons who are accustomed to reading in bed may be interested to know that a new electric-light fixture which can be attached to the bed-rail has been developed.

It consists of a reflector and holder mounted on a swivel joint attached to a metal strip bent in the shape of a hook which can be hung over the head rail of the bed, back of a chair, edge of a mirror, etc., or a telescoping floor or table pedestal.

It is especially adapted to use in hospitals or doctors' offices, where the illuminated area has to be shifted frequently.

NORSEMEN FIRST IN AMERICA

Inspection on Runie Stone Seems to Prove Claim That Has Been Matter of Contention.

London authorities have the opportunity of judging for themselves whether Christopher Columbus discovered or rediscovered America, for at Charing Cross the celebrated Fletcher runie stone, discovered near Yarmouth, N. S., by Doctor Fletcher over one hundred years ago, is now displayed.

On this stone strange characters can be seen, which, it is stated, for over fifty years, baffled the leading scientists throughout the world. It was left to Henry Phillips, Jr., of Philadelphia, to decipher the mysterious inscription, which he found represented the words, "Harkness Men Yara" (Hark's son addressed the men).

Searching through ancient writings, Mr. Phillips found that in an expedition of Norsemen which left Greenland in the year 1007, the name of Harkl occurred. This expedition, consisting of 100 men in two ships under the leadership of Thorfinn Kariselfua and Bjorne Grimolfson, took all kinds of live stock with them for the purpose of establishing a colony in Vinland (Massachusetts). But on their way they landed and partially explored Nova Scotia (Marland).

To celebrate this event, Harkl, one of their chieftains, addressed his followers, and apparently this stone was inscribed in commemoration of the event.

CASH AND CUPID FAR APART

Unhappy the Maid Whose Lover Is Capable of Thinking of Filthy Lucra When She Smiles.

Missouri is changing its marriage laws and a St. Joseph clubwoman is trying to insert a provision requiring all couples desiring to marry to show at least $200. "Poverty, shiftlessness and a failure to save cause more divorces than anything else," she argues. She may be right, but the chances are that the little winged god is not worrying over the attempt to weight his arrows with a few ounces of gold, remarks the Philadelphia Press. It may be foolish to rush into the responsibilities of matrimony minus cash, but the world has grown on such foolishness. Shall thoughts turn to saving of money when the most glorious girl of the ages smiles and gently intimates a desire for flowers or candy or picnics or trifles; when a simple "Yes" makes a universe too small a gift in return for that confidence; when the generosity of soul is boundless and only credit limited? Later it is true that $200 might come in handy. Later life may become more a thing of commerce—but the glory of real love is that it doesn't stop to count pennies or calculate costs. If it did—if this had been its habit in the ages past—precious few of us would be here today, either to love or to carry on trade and make and save money, and heaven long foretold the day when Cupid shall be caught stealthily figuring up his bank balance!

British Royal Family.

One hundred years ago England held a national jubilee in celebration of the centenary of the accession of the House of Hanover to the English throne. The first of the Hanoverian line was George I, who succeeded to the throne of Great Britain and Ireland on the death of Queen Anne, August 1, 1714. George's succession to the throne, came through his mother, the electress Sophia of Hanover, who was a granddaughter of James I. The most conspicuous figure in the reign of George I was Sir Robert Walpole, who was the first prime minister of England. The fact that George could speak no English, while his ministers could speak no German, taken with the other fact that the king preferred to spend much of his time in Hanover, gave to the office of prime minister, that Walpole was the first to hold, the character that it has since retained.

Golfer Without Arms.

An armless golfer is a regular player on the Buffalo County club links. By means of his mouth, chin and shoulders he does practically everything possible for a normal golfer to accomplish, and he does it well. For two successive years he has won the title and trophy presented by the club to the caddy covering the 18 holes in the lowest score. He also plays pool and billiards well, grasping the cue firmly between the chin and shoulder as he does the golf-stick. He writes legibly, too, picking up the pencil with the mouth and working it down to the chin and shoulder. He picks up paper and turns the pages of a book with his lips.

Nobody Noticed.

The superintendent of the insane asylum where I was visiting took the inmates to see a ball game.

"How did they behave?"

"Like insane people. Emitted frantic yells and cut up all sorts of extravagant capers."

"I should think the other patrons would have been alarmed."

"Oh, no. Nobody suspected that they were not regular fans."

The Limit.

"Titewad is a mean old cuss, isn't he?" said Mack.

"What is he doing now?" asked Mack.

"He is feeding his goldfish on white pasteboard and making them imagine it is fish food," replied Mack.

MRS. CRUMRINE DIES AT ASHVILLE

Word was received in Washington Sunday of the death at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Ashville, N. C., of Mrs. Louie Kennedy Crumrine, a wife of Boyd Crumrine, a well known teacher in the East Washington attorney of the Washington county schools. The body will be brought north for interment, announcement of the funeral's death followed an illness of about two years. She had been at Ashville for the past eight months. Mrs. Crumrine was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Kennedy, of Mt. Morris, Greene county. Beside her parents and husband, she leaves two sisters, Mrs. Mary Phillips, wife of Dr. George Phillips, of Blackville, W. Va., and Miss Nelle Kennedy, a wife of Boyd Crumrine, a well known teacher in the East Washington attorney of the Washington county schools. BAD DAY FOR JOES celebrated his 21st birthday by getting drunk. During the time he was under the influence of the drink he managed to get possession of a piece of blue serge cloth belonging to Morris Wein. When Smith was arrested for being drunk he had the cloth, but he does not know yet how he got it. He said he had never been arrested before and had not been drunk before. He was sentenced to pay the costs, fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months.

William McDonald, of Enterprise, North Strabane township, also got an overload of booze, went on a rampage and proceeded to use a gun in a rather dangerous manner. He was sentenced to pay the costs, fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for four months.

Harvey Henderson, colored, of Shupestown, had an altercation with William Johnson. It was during the late fuss that Johnson claimed Henderson attacked him with a gun. Henderson says he shot in the ground and not at Johnson. Henderson said Johnson had been "whiffing coke." The court asked Henderson if he used cocaine. He replied that he did not, that "wet booze was bad enough, let alone dry."

ARGUMENT OVER POSSESSION OF COAL LAND IS HEARD

A case involving valuable coal lands in Greene county was argued in the appeal of Charles W. Weltner, of Charleroi and others, grandchildren of William Gray, against W. Harry Brown, in Pittsburgh Monday. The appellants claim that they have an interest in the Pittsburgh vein coal underlying two farms that belonged to their grandfather, the coal having subsequently been purchased by Brown from the other heirs of Gray.

STREET RAILWAYS WITHIN BOUNDS SAYS THE COURT

Judge McIlvaine, in an opinion just handed down, disposes of the exceptions filed to the court's adjudication, in the suit of L. E. Ebertson, of Bentleyville, against the Westside Electric Street Railway Co. The action was an injunction bill to determine the rights of the railway company, under its charter, to condemn part of the plaintiff's lot, on which he resides, for and as a right of way for the building and operation of a street railway. The principal point of contention was on the question of "curtilage appurtenant thereto," whether or not the land taken was necessary for the reasonable enjoyment by the plaintiff of his dwelling house.

The court held that the land taken in this instance was not so necessary. In the opinion just handed down it still holds that view. The court holds that the defendant company is not permanently taking anything that is necessary for the reasonable enjoyment of the plaintiff's dwellings as a house for himself and family. The court disposes of the exceptions and orders that the adjudication, as amended, stand as the final adjudication of the court.

is still in evidence in many places, while in others the weeds are waist more advanced French and British positions were assailed and forced to withdraw to the main body.

Paris, Oct. 6.—The official statement says: The general situation is unchanged. On the left wing the action is still going on continuously. In the Argonne and on the heights of the Meuse the allies have repulsed attacks night and day. In Russia, after a battle that lasted ten days, the German army, which was operating between the Eastern Prussia front and the Niemen river, has been driven back along the entire line, and made all of these things be repaired next Friday afternoon. The interior of many of the buildings were not cleaned and ready for the opening of the school term, and Mr. Crumrine suggests that the buildings be placed in good condition as well as the grounds surrounding.

of getting along

Which wins?

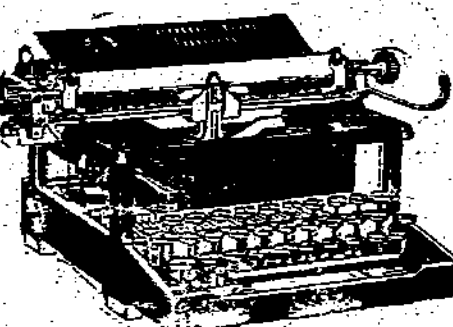

Now and then, we hear people say that they can get along without a typewriter. Yes, we believe that. Only forty years ago everybody got along without one.

So they did, a little further back, without the steam engine and the railroad train. They got along without them because there were none.

Anyone today who thinks he can get along without the typewriter because he can do his writing with the pen, is like the man who thinks he doesn't need the railroad because he can walk. In your method of writing you may be "walking" today. If so, then remember that the railroad is built and—

Remington JUNIOR
Typewriter

We have built the Remington Junior on purpose for those who have writing to do and need a typewriter but who haven't bought one—yet.

We have built it for the traveler and for the home; for the doctor, the clergyman, the farmer, the retail storekeeper—for everyone who needs a typewriter for the simpler uses, like manuscript and letter writing.

The price of the Remington Junior is fifty dollars, cash with order. It is just what its name implies, a "boiled down" Remington; smaller, lighter, simpler and more portable, but a true Remington in the work it does and the way it does it, and sold under the iron-clad Remington guarantee.

Here is your chance, absolutely your first chance, to buy an absolutely first-grade typewriter at a medium price. For $55.00, we will sell you a Remington Junior on terms of $5.00 down and $5.00 a month. Cut out the attached coupon and send it to us with $5.00 in cash, check or money order, and we will send the machine.

WAR BULLETINS

Paris, Oct. 6.—The Germans resumed the offensive in two attacks Monday. The first was made in an attempt to break the pressure which threatened the German lines of communication into Belgium. The French were forced to give ground at several points. It is stated that just the positions were assailed and forced to withdraw to the main body.

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—Emperor Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, has arrived at the headquarters of the active army. It is believed that the Russians will be able to forestall the intended German invasion of Russia.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—England is drawing on all her resources for the war with Germany. The Indian troops have been landed in France. British ships have arrived at Lisbon to transport Portuguese troops. Portugal's entrance into the war is imminent. Mobilization in that country is believed to have been ordered in response to a British demand.
